IV. Reports
   1. Mike Madrigal reported on the Religious Understanding Day, there were approximately 60 attendees who signed in, but there was little student participation. The event had excellent discussion with great dialogue and insight. The format worked really well this year. Hopefully we can have greater student participation by students. Millie suggested planning the event during the week. Other members offered suggestions, we will look at planning for next year’s event in October.
   2. Vera Stamenkovic and Paula Naggi reported on both the Clothesline Project and Denim Day. Both of these events were extremely successful, lots of student participation, the event was community driven and C.J. Baca was extremely helpful. Holly also reported on the SJC Clothesline event. There were more students this year, than last year and the overall attendance was great this year. Having the event as a two-day event was beneficial and next year the shirts will be on display longer. Also, we will need additional help next year.
3. Lisa Yates reported on the Beyond the Cover event. The event was held at Menifee and the event was well attended with 77 readers. We will encourage teachers to bring their classrooms next year. The responses from students for this event were great. Lisa Yates provided a four-page post event report that was sent out to the committee. Susan Winslow and Scott Keys also commented on the event. Joseph was a living book and he said the experience was life changing.

4. Morgan Hoodenpyle reported out on the EEOAC Committee. The Equal Employment Opportunity Advisory Committee had their first meeting on April 26, 2017, the committee is comprised of Administration, Faculty and Classified personnel. The goal of this committee is to review the plan and make recommendation for the next submission which is due every three years with an annual report. The EEOAC will meet four times per year. We have been tasked to review the plan over the summer and come back in August / September to discuss changes and allocation of funding.

V. Old Business - None

VI. New Business

1. Nomination and election of 2017-2018 co-chairs for the committee – Willie’s term is up and Vera is leaving mid-term. It was unanimous that Willie Hamilton and Lisa Yates will co-chair the committee for 2017-2019. Willie Hamilton will be mentoring Lisa and is hopeful that another faculty member will step into his co-chair position before the two year term ends.

2. Joseph Page presented his ideas for a Multi-Cultural Dance that would display three types of dances from different cultures. His idea was to partner with 2nd chance and Diversity to make this dream a reality. Jessica suggested he present his idea to SGA for some assistance. The committee offered suggestion and discussed concerns in terms of the costs of dancers, venues and the planning of this type of dance/concert. It was recommended that Joseph work on the planning and table this item for September.

3. Vera and Paula both are requesting ten (10) more plastic storage bins to store Diversity supplies and to purchase (2) or (3) Ez-ups that Diversity could use on a regular basis for events rather than having to ask and borrow them. This item has been tabled for the September meeting. Willie asked both Vera and Paula to itemize the expense and present this item as an action item in September.

VII. Action Items

1. Pamela Wright researched a few speakers based on the discussion from the last meeting. Robin D’Angelo will costs $7,500 and Peggy McIntosh will cost $25,000 + travel. She did mention that as the Director of Student Equity, she would be willing to share the costs. This item has been tabled for September.

VIII. Announcements

1. Holly gave a brief update on the 2017 Take Back the Night event held on the SJC campus. She thanked Joseph for his assistance and said the event was great. Next year they plan to have speakers and increase student participation.

2. Jessica announced the SGA elections.

3. Jessica announced the De-Stress days May 15th –MVC and Mary 16th –SJC. This event will allow students to De-stress before finals.

4. Mike Madrigal announced the Day of Culture on May 28th at the MALKI Museum.

5. Pam Wright on behalf of Tami Smith requested bell Hooks as a guest speaker. This has been tabled for September.

6. Vera announced the 2017 Human Trafficking event.
7. Adjournment: 1:49 p.m.
