Community College Public Relations Organization 2019 Scholarship Guidelines

Who?

The CCPRO Writing Scholarship is an annual scholarship program for community college students offered by the Community College Public Relations Organization.

What?

The $1,000 CCPRO Writing Scholarship program is designed to encourage students to get published. The scholarship will be awarded to a full-time California community college student who writes a compelling news story, pitches the story to their college newspaper or online publication, and gets published. If the applicant's college does not have a student publication/newspaper, the applicant can write a press release for their college's public information office.

When?

Articles must be published between July 1, 2018 and February 15, 2019.

How?

1. Community college students are asked to write, pitch, and publish an article in their college newspaper or online publication. If the applicant's college does not have a student publication/newspaper, the applicant can write a press release for their college's public information office.
2. Students must submit the completed application, the published story (with date/source), and the original submission. Mail all materials by February 22, 2019 to:
