   - Any (non-officer) member of the Eagle’s Eye,
Committee Chair,
Vice-Chair or
Speaker of any committee

Then any officer shall second the motion.

2. A two thirds (2/3) vote must be passed by the officers of the Eagle’s Eye in order to move the motion to the Constitutional Committee to revise or write a new amendment. In the event of a tie, The President (or Vice President if the President is unable to attend) has the authority to appoint any member at large to vote as a tiebreaker (including advisors). If all officers are not present, The President, within three days, may implement the following executive orders or else no action shall be taken:

- Order an executive mandate to the Constitutional Committee to discuss the item then write an appropriate amendment, hence bypassing the vote.
- Order a special meeting (date, time and location will be determined by the President) that includes a mandatory presence of all officers to vote on the motion via the method of his or her choosing. Failure, by any officer, to comply with this order shall be subject to the Ethics Committee’s methods of discipline. In the event that all officers do not comply, The President may immediately issue an alternative executive order.
- Order a vote (during the meeting of the motion) of the officers present. Two thirds (2/3) of the officers must be present to be able to comply with this executive order. The President may appoint one (1) member at large to complete the two thirds (2/3), including an advisor.
- Order of direct action that allows the member (who motioned for the amendment) to thoroughly write the amendment for The President’s approval, hence bypassing steps 2 & 3.

3. The Constitutional Committee must complete a comprehensive and clear amendment for a vote. The Eagle’s Eye member who motioned for the amendment must guide all amendments. The Constitutional Committee Chair shall run up to three meetings within 15 days to complete the amendment deliberations and writing.

4. The Constitutional Committee Chair, or appointed member, through an executive order, must present the amendment, within three days of completion of the writing, to The President for approval signature, executive order to rewrite, or veto.

- The President’s signature is needed to approve the amendment and shall be recorded by the Secretary in all archives within three days.
- An executive order to rewrite could only be given, within three days, with a written explanation, to the Constitutional Committee, of the issues, grammar, or suggestions for rewriting.
- A veto could only be given with a written explanation to the person(s) or committee(s) who motioned for the amendment, on the next agenda for public view and shall be recorded by the Secretary in all archives within three days.

5. The President, after approval, has seven days to order the Secretary to put it on the next agenda for final discussion of the amendment. During the following meeting a two thirds (2/3) vote by all officers is needed for ratification. If all officers are not present, The President, within three days, may exercise the following executive orders:
Order a special meeting that includes a mandatory presence of all officers to vote on the amendment via the method of his or her choosing. Failure, by any officer, to comply with this order shall be subject to the Ethics Committee’s methods of discipline. If all officers do not attend, The President may issue an alternate executive order.

Order a vote (during the meeting of the motion) of the officers present. Two thirds (2/3) of the officers must be present to be able to comply with this executive order. The President may appoint one (1) member at large to complete the two thirds (2/3), including an advisor.

Order a postponement of the vote to be held at the next meeting. This option may only be used twice where then after the President may use an alternative executive order.

Order a direct vote from every member present. A two thirds (2/3) vote is needed to pass the amendment. The President may ask one advisor to vote to complete the 2/3 needed.

6. The President, after ratification, must then order the Secretary, within three days, to add such amendment to the Constitution. If there is an executive order of direct action for the person who motioned to write the amendment and it is ratified, his or her name shall be put on the amendment as recognition for his or her efforts; otherwise, the year of the Constitutional Committee shall be the heading.

Conclusion

We, the members of the Eagle’s Eye, recognize that this constitution may require changes and/or additions during the life of the club. We are also extremely adamant that changes and/or additions shall NOT be made easily or to appease any group or individual. We also understand that all positions are identified as necessary to reflect the attitude of the member’s loyalty towards this Constitution. Our joint effort to preserve the original intentions of the writers shall be our first concern with diligent determination. Checks and balances are within for the integrity of the club and should be the goal of each member and Advisor. No individual shall rule over us or exclusively benefit him or herself in any manner. This is OUR club, and for the future members, we will make certain that NO ONE jeopardizes the Constitution’s intention, integrity and/or balance of power. We, the members as a whole, are ultimately in charge and we will venture to become the epitome of what all clubs strive for – Unity in mind, unity in beliefs, and unity in loyalty. Therefore - We, the Eagle’s Eye of Mt. San Jacinto College, hereby ratify into effect this Constitution as our club laws and pledge to defend its entirety without wavering.
