

Compliance to Grief

By: Alexis Calain

They say all it takes is a little compliance
And soon enough asylum will be provided,
Simply take on depression and safety will follow
For the exchange of grief for freedom is how it goes.

Persuade the subject or go home
Even if the stakes are unsafe,
For thy duty is to take
And report one's uncertain fate.

The simple compliance to grief will save so many
For no matter how bad it hurts it could be worse,
Since that is why I was chosen as subject
My pain is not comparable to those of true Americans.
